A. SIBELIUS APPLICATIONS

1. Sibelius can be used with just computers (no MIDI keyboard or controller) using mouse and alphabetic entry.
2. Consider purchasing the Sibelius Student edition so every student has a copy on his or her computer.
3. Use the Sibelius demo version – it is totally functional, just will not save. It does have limited printing capabilities.
4. Don't just ask students to start composing. Rather, find or create files and lesson plans that students can manipulate or complete and eventually learn the composition skills required to write a song from scratch.

TIP: Take advantage of the liberal education discount offered to educators and churches. Purchase from an education music dealer such as SoundTree, Sweetwater, Kelly's Music, and others.

B. SIBELIUS WORKSHEETS:

1. There are dozens of ready-to-use lessons that were introduced in Sibelius 4 called Worksheets.
2. In Sibelius, select File > Worksheet Creator. The first time it will take a while to load. After that it will only take a few seconds to load the files.
3. Select from several categories – there are 1700 worksheets to choose from. Review the more than 100 exercises in:
02 Writing and Creating Music (117 files)

Notation and Adapting are mostly for reference.

Composing and Improvising are designed to be completed by students.

Choose From:

- 01 Notation (37 of 37)
- 02 Adapting, Transposing & Arranging (9...)
- 03 Composing (50 of 50)
- 04 Improvising (21 of 21)

4. When the selected document is in preview mode, press Previous to return and do another search.
5. If you press Done, Sibelius will create two files: a student file and an answer key. Both can be accessed from the Window menu and printed or edited as needed.
6. You can also add your own files to the Workshop creator with any file you create via: File > Add to Worksheet Creator. Use this to create your own curriculum materials.
7. Also check out the repertoire options. A lot of excellent material can simply be printed or used for composition exercises. I use this material to ask students to arrange a piano piece for 2 or more instruments.

TIP: Be sure to update to Sibelius 5.1 as it corrected some problems with Worksheets. In Sibelius, go to the Help menu and select “Check for Update.” The update is free and will download from the Sibelius website
